

Animation	3	While the space is designed for active and passive engagement, the space is often underutilized. The playground is often empty or has no more than 5 people. The space is most animated during school recess or during the winter when the ice rinks are open.
Physical Configuration	5	Well located, well-connected to surrounding areas, easily accessible.
Ownership	4	Although public property, the recreation center is often closed due to the public school who uses the space during school hours.
Control	4	Implied sense of acceptable uses of the space. There are no security guards or cameras. Only sense of control is through parental supervision and staff members working within the recreation center.
Civility	3	Only 2 wheelchair accessible gateways, not very directly accessible to the recreation center. There are no outdoor bathrooms, and indoor hours are limited. Park rules are located on the tennis court, and are barely legible.
